

HOTEL ALTAPURA

"SCANDINAVIAN CHIC ON TOP OF THE WORLD"

Fish&Pips

LOCATION:

VAL THORENS

In the highest resort in the Alps, Val Thorens, sits the glamorous and ultra modern Altapura. This is not your traditional alpine retreat, but cool Scandinavian chic. It surely has one of the best positions in Val Thorens, facing south over the entire Three Valleys, with skiing right to the front door. The faultless service and relaxed ambiance stand out, as does the choice of dining. A mountain style brasserie, Les Enfants Terribles, 2.Mille.3 restaurant where your food is theatrically cooked in front of you and La Laiterie – one for those partial to a fondue, will ensure you never go hungry. The rooms and suites are all light pine and coloured furnishing, with high-tech gadgets and big windows, with many adjoining options for families.

ABOUT VAL THORNES

Not only is it the highest resort in the Three Valleys, it's the highest in Europe. The panoramas from up here are dramatic, and because of its altitude, the snow is more reliable than all other resorts in the region. Val Thorens' renaissance into a sophisticated resort is now well-documented. Way above the tree line, its 140km of pistes have something for everyone – gentle sweeping greens and blues for beginners, lots of technical reds and some challenging blacks. And if you have the time and stamina, it's also possible to ski into the "fourth" valley – the Maurienne, and over to the quieter slopes of Les Menuires. Lunch is often less expensive here than in its sister resorts, whilst La Folie Douce is conveniently located on your way back to Méribel.
