

LOCATION:

ZERMATT, SWITZERLAND

For skiers and foodies, the CERVO ticks each and every box. Its enviable position, with direct access to the Sunnegga Express lift, and located at the bottom of both a blue and red run back down, together with its exceptional menu (we've had our fair share of the truffle chips), make it one of the best places to stay in Zermatt. Contemporary Swiss chalet style on the outside and modern, clean and crisp alpine chic with traditional touches here and there on the inside – we love the décor here. But most of all, it's about soaking up the atmosphere. Late afternoons spent on the terrace looking out across the Matterhorn with a drink and live music – the CERVO's après ski is not surprisingly very popular. Match this with typical Zermatt hospitality, and it's not hard to see why this is one of our favourites.

Fish&Pips

ABOUT ZERMATT, SWITZERLAND - For a ski holiday you'll never forget

From the first glimpse of the mighty Matterhorn as you wind your way slowly by train to Zermatt, you feel the magic of this spellbinding Swiss resort. It's a destination for skiers who not only love the slopes, but first class food too. A winning Fish&Pips formula in fact! Snowsure slopes, with some of the highest lifts in the world, there are 200km of pistes for every ability of skier, and links to Cervinia in Italy with a further 160km. Weather and time permitting, the 22km run from the border at Plateau Rosa, all the way down to Valtournenche is both exhilarating and easy to ski. The lift system is fast and efficient, with continual improvement and additions, but for some good old-fashioned travel, take the train up to Gornergrat. The village itself is an enchanting mix of higgledy-piggledy wooden chalets, narrow lanes, smart shops, restaurants, wine bars and best of all is car-free. Zermatt has some of the best mountain restaurants in the Alps, if not the world, so many a day may just end at lunch, sitting looking up at that amazing mountain, wondering why you never came here sooner.
